

Alfonso Cuarón
Producer

Alfonso Cuarón is a five-time Academy Award®-winner who has written and directed a wide range of acclaimed films. He most recently won three Academy Awards® for his direction and cinematography of ROMA, which also took home the Oscar for Best Foreign Language Film and was nominated for 10 Academy Awards®. Cuarón previously won two Academy Awards® for directing and editing GRAVITY, which he also co-wrote with his son Jonás. His other credits include CHILDREN OF MEN, Y TU MAMÁ TAMBIÉN, HARRY POTTER AND THE PRISONER OF AZKABAN, GREAT EXPECTATIONS and A LITTLE PRINCESS. Cuarón made his feature film directorial debut in 1991 with SÓLO CON TU PAREJA (LOVE IN THE TIME OF HYSTERIA).

As part of his multi-year overall deal with Apple, Cuarón's Esperanto Filmoj is currently in production on DISCLAIMER for Apple TV+. The series, executive produced by Gabriela Rodriguez and adapted for the screen, directed by and executive produced by Cuarón, stars Academy Award®-winners Cate Blanchett and Kevin Kline, Academy Award®-nominees Sacha Baron Cohen, Kodi Smit-McPhee, and Lesley Manville, and recent SAG Award®-winner, HoYeon. The series is slated to launch in 2023. Cuarón continues to collaborate with longtime partner Anonymous Content, with whom he has a non-exclusive deal.
