

Ashley Liao
"Eleanor"

Ashley Liao stars as Eleanor, Sam's older sister destined to become the Queen of Illyria in the upcoming Disney+ original movie "Secret Society of Second-Born Royals." Eleanor is the picture-perfect princess everyone expects her to be – warm, smart, beautiful and benevolent – a natural born royal.

Liao is best known for her breakout role of Mandy in the Disney XD film "Jessica Darling's It List" and the role of Lola Wong in the series "Fuller House." Prior to "Secret Society of Second-Born Royals", Liao can be seen in the romantic comedy "Always Be My Maybe," playing a younger version of the title character played by Ali Wong. Liao started her career performing the lead in several productions at her local community theater and that parlayed her into guest starring roles on television, including recurring roles on "Great News" and "The Kicks."

Liao resided in Los Angeles and enjoys singing and extreme martial arts.
