

BIOGRAPHY

Carri Twigg
Executive Producer

Carri is Co-founder and Head of Development for Culture House media, a Black, Brown, Women owned, full service, premium film and TV production company that specializes in storytelling about the urgent cultural questions confronting America and the world. Prior to Culture House, Carri spent 10 years in politics and government, including serving as Special Assistant to President Obama and Director of Public Engagement for then Vice President Biden. Carri also leads Culture House's consultancy work, collaborating with major studios like Paramount Pictures, and creatives to ensure their projects are culturally productive. Carri is an expert in crafting engaging, socially relevant and politically resonant stories, and has been seen on stages from TedX to SXSW.