Alan Bersten

Professional Dancer, "Dancing with the Stars"

Alan Bersten is a six-season pro on Dancing with The Stars and wrapped Season 30 in the fall of 2021 with his celebrity partner, Broadway actress and the host CBS' The Talk, Amanda Kloots. This duo finished with a strong appearance making it to the finals! In November 2019, Alan and his then partner, ABC's The Bachelorette Hannah Brown captured not only the hearts of the DWTS fans, but won the coveted mirror ball trophy, winning Season 28.

The Minnesota native spent four seasons as a member of the "Dancing with The Stars" troupe and earned his full-time spot as a one of the male pros for season 25.

One of his proudest professional moments, was being the mentor and choreographer for the first-ever "Dancing with The Stars Juniors." Under his guidance, skater and surf prodigy Sky Brown, along with junior pro JT Church, won the season, creating a life-long friendship between Alan and Sky.

Born and raised in Minnesota to Russian Jewish immigrant parents, Alan's diverse dance acumen led him to win Youth Championship and Under 21 National Titles.

At 18, Alan was a finalist on season 10 of the Fox hit So You Think You Can Dance, finishing in the Top 6 Males. Later, was part of the North American SYTYCD tour, and joined Burn the Floor for their world tour. After traveling the globe, he received a recurring role on season six of GLEE, as part of the show choir, Vocal Adrenaline.

Alan and members of the cast of Dancing with The Stars just finished their national tour in March 2022, making this Alan's 7th season traveling the country performing night after night for what he considers the best fans in the world!
