Brandon Armstrong

Professional Dancer, "Dancing with the Stars"

Brandon Armstrong was born and raised in California before moving to Utah at age 12, where he danced with Mark Ballas, Corky Ballas, and Shirley Ballas. Trained in all styles including jazz, hip-hop, and contemporary, Brandon has traveled all over the world to compete professionally, specifically in Latin Ballroom. Brandon also starred in Las Vegas productions Showstoppers at The Wynn and Baz at The Palazzo. Brandon officially joined the cast of Dancing with the Stars as a troupe member for season 24, ultimately becoming a pro for season 27. He has been partnered with R&B singer Tinashe, legendary singer/member of The Supremes Mary Wilson, and most recently with Real Housewives of Atlanta star Kenya Moore.
