

Isabella Blake Thomas
"January"

Isabella Blake Thomas stars as January in the upcoming Disney+ original movie "Secret Society of Second-Born Royals." January is an eager-to-learn second-born royal who becomes Sam's first friend at the training academy and possesses an extremely adaptable super human ability.

Blake Thomas began her career as the lead in a British children's series and continued to work steadily, appearing in multiple series before landing the fan-favorite role of young Zelena in ABC's "Once Upon A Time." An accomplished singer, Blake Thomas released her debut EP in early 2019. Prior to "Secret Society of Second-Born Royals", her multi-hyphenated work can be seen in the child-trafficking awareness short film "Unseen" as she stars and lends her original music to the soundtrack.

The official ambassador of suicide awareness with Awareness Ties, Blake Thomas hopes to shed light on suicide prevention. Along with her mother, she is a founding member of their production company Mother & Daughter Entertainment, where together they focus on creating projects that start a conversation to spark change.

Blake Thomas lives in LA with her mother and when she is not working you can find her in the sky, solo piloting a Cessna 172.
