BIOGRAPHY

Jean Cayrol
Director

Jean Cayrol is director of Disney+'s original animated laugh-out-loud series "Chip 'n' Dale: Park Life." The series follows nervous worrier Chip and laid-back dreamer Dale who are trying to live the good life in a big city park while having giant-sized, sky-high adventures.

Cayrol is also the co-creator of "Oggy Oggy," an animated preschool series based on the global hit franchise "Oggy and the Cockroaches," which he served as a background artist. His additional credits include "FloopaLoo, Where Are You?," "Paprika," "Go West! A Lucky Luke Adventure," "The Daltons" and "Zig & Sharko."

He is self-taught and started his career as an animator and background designer for Praxinos in France before serving as an animation supervisor in South Korea for almost five years. Born and raised in Sète, France Cayrol currently resides in Levallois-Perret, France.
