Julie Gardner
Executive Producer

Award-winning television producer Julie Gardner is executive producer for the upcoming season of "Doctor Who," streaming Friday, May 10 on Disney+ where available.

Gardner co-founded the production company Bad Wolf with Jane Tranter in 2015 after working together at BBC and BBC Worldwide Productions.

Gardner has previously served as BBC's Head of Drama at BBC Wales where she led an award-winning slate of independent programming, including "The Girl in the Café," "Life on Mars," "Being Human" and "Stuart: A Life Backwards." At BBC Worldwide Productions, Gardner executive produced titles such as "Da Vinci's Demons" and "Getting On."

Since launching Bad Wolf, Gardner has executive produced titles that include "I Hate Suzie," "I Hate Suzie Too," "The Winter King" and "Red Eye." She is currently in production on the second season of "Doctor Who". In the U.S., for sister company Bad Wolf America, Gardner is completing post-production on the limited series "Lady in the Lake."

Gardner is an honorary fellow of the Royal Welsh College of Music and Drama and the University of West Glamorgan. She is the recipient of the Sian Phillips Award at BAFTA Cymru 2013. In 2014, she was made an MBE for her contribution to the growth of the television industry in Wales.
