Malina Pauli Weissman

"Briar"

Malina Pauli Weissman will next be seen starring in the Disney series "Coven Academy," from creator Tim Federle. Weissman shares the screen with Jimmi Simpson in the upcoming horror film "Slay," directed by Kyra Gardner.

Malina is best known for starring opposite Neil Patrick Harris in Netflix's "A Series of Unfortunate Events" series, which reteamed her with Barry Sonnenfeld, who previously directed her in EuropaCorp's "Nine Lives." Other films include the lead in Joseph Khan's "Ick," which premiered at the Toronto International Film Festival and Salvatore Scialfani's "The Hermit" alongside Lou Ferrigno. Weissman made her big screen debut in the mega-hit "Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles," playing Young April O'Neill (Megan Fox).

On the small screen, Weissmann guest-starred on the Paramount + series "Evil," recurred on the Warner Bros/CW series "Supergirl" as Young Supergirl, and appeared on Billy Eichner's Hulu series "Difficult People."

Along with her film and television work, Weissmann has already had an extensive modeling career that includes campaigns for DKNY, Calvin Klein, Gap Kids, H&M, and Apple.
