

Disney
HIGH SCHOOL MUSICAL
THE MUSICAL THE SERIES

Matthew Sato
"Mack"

Matthew Sato is an actor on the rise who can be seen starring on Disney+ series "Doogie Kamealoha M.D." Set in modern-day Hawai'i, the story is a coming-of-age dramedy following Lahela "Doogie" Kamealoha, a 16-year-old prodigy, inspired by the hit medical series "Doogie Howser, M.D." in the early 90s starring Neil Patrick Harris. Matthew stars as 'Kai Kamealoha,' Lahela's older, free-spirited brother, with an emotional IQ that's off the charts.

Matthew's acting career was jump started with his appearance in CBS' "Hawaii Five-0" leading him to star in, Nickelodeon's "Side Hustle," and the Peacocks' "Save by the Bell."

Matthew currently lives in Los Angeles and originally from O'ahu, Hawai'i. He is of Japanese, Hawaiian, Chinese, and Irish descent. Alongside acting, he is equally passionate about being behind the camera. He has directed multiple music videos and short films, and after graduating high school, he attended film school. When he is not working, he enjoys hiking, fishing, diving, traveling, and photography. He hopes to use his voice for preserving wildlife and the ocean.

With half a million devoted social media fans and rising, Matthew's charisma continues to attract new fans from around the world.