

Miles McKenna
"James"

Miles McKenna stars as James in the chilling new series "Goosebumps," inspired by R.L. Stine's worldwide bestselling books, premiering on Disney+ and Hulu.

McKenna was most recently seen in the film "Nocturne," opposite Madison Iseman and Sydney Sweeney. He recently had a recurring role in Hulu's "All Night" and starred in "Good Girls Get High" with Lauren Lapkus.

In addition to being an actor, McKenna is an author, activist and Shorty Award-winning social media creator. His YouTube channel, MilesChronicles, has over one million subscribers and garnered national attention when he used it to document his journey into coming out and transitioning. In 2020, he released his book "Out!: How to Be Your Authentic Self."

McKenna is repped by UTA, Atlas Artists and Yorn, Levine, Barnes, Krintzman, Rubenstein, Kohner, Endlich & Gellman.
