

Disney ORIGINAL
Documentary

MICKEY

THE STORY OF A MOUSE

BIOGRAPHY

Morgan Neville

Producer

MORGAN NEVILLE is an Academy Award-, Grammy Award-, and Emmy Award-winning director and producer known for his work as a cultural documentarian. His acclaimed film Won't You Be My Neighbor?, a documentary about Fred Rogers, is one of the best-reviewed and highest-grossing documentaries of all time. His 2013 film 20 Feet from Stardom won the Academy Award for Best Documentary, as well as a Grammy Award. His most recent film, Roadrunner: A Film About Anthony Bourdain, premiered theatrically nationwide in 2021 and was the highest-grossing documentary of the year. Other films include the Emmy-winning Best of Enemies, They'll Love Me When I'm Dead, Keith Richards: Under the Influence and The Music of Strangers: Yo-Yo Ma and the Silk Road Ensemble. For television, Neville has directed "Shangri-La," about music producer Rick Rubin; "Watch the Sound with Mark Ronson," "Abstract: The Art of Design," "Song Exploder" and "Ugly Delicious." Neville has also produced several other films and series including "Worn Stories," The Painter and the Thief, Beauty Is Embarrassing, Taylor Swift: Miss Americana and Crossfire Hurricane.