

Olivia Deeble
"Roxana"

Olivia Deeble stars as Roxana in the upcoming Disney+ original movie "Secret Society of Second-Born Royals." Roxana is a mega-popular second-born princess with a lot of social media influence and a super ability she isn't quite fond of at first.

Deeble is best known for her role on the Australian series "Home and Away," where she played the role of Raffy Morrison. Prior to that, Olivia starred as co-lead Tamara Noodle in two seasons of the multi international award-winning children's comedy series "Little Lunch." In 2018, Deeble was voted "Favorite Rising Star" on Nickelodeon's Kids' Choice Awards.

Deeble started acting at a young age. As a child, she appeared in movies and musicals in Melbourne, with smaller roles in award-winning short films, TV commercials and feature films.

Deeble currently resides in Melbourne, Australia and speaks fluent French. She is a trained dancer, tumbler, a strong swimmer and keen surfer.