Patrick Costello

Executive Producer, Showrunner

Patrick Costello is executive producer and showrunner of “Rennervations,” overseeing the series creative from pre-production through delivery.

Costello is a veteran unscripted creative executive who oversees ambitious and premium projects in development and production. For over two decades, he’s helped build the genre’s most successful series, including “Survivor,” “The Apprentice,” “The Amazing Race,” “Hell’s Kitchen,” “Deadliest Catch,” “Top Gear USA” and “Truck Night in America.” He has produced television in over 30 countries on six continents in jungles, oceans, deserts, forests, glaciers, cities, jails, racetracks, winding mountain roads, an occasional war zone, and edit bays of Los Angeles and Manhattan. He splits time between California and New York with his wife and three sons.
