Bettina Dalton (Producer)

Before her role as executive producer and principal of WildBear Entertainment, Bettina Dalton was a managing director of WildFury and owner of the stock footage company Content Mint. While her first passion is natural history, Dalton has produced and directed diverse genres of award-winning content for all Australian and most international television broadcasters, including ZDF, Arte, NDR, BBC, PBS, National Geographic and Discovery Channels. Dalton's most recent projects include series such as "Coral Triangle" (2013, ZDF/Arte, Discovery Asia), "Wild Australia" (2014, ZDF, NDR, National Geographic), "Big Red: The King Kangaroo" (2015, NDR National Geographic), "Borneo's Secret Kingdom" (2016 ZDFE National Geographic), "Dino Bird" (2017 National Geographic Channels), "Boss Croc" (2017 France 2, National Geographic) and "Bushfire Animal Rescue" (2020 PBS Nature, ZDF/Arte).
