

BIOGRAPHY
Ralph Farquhar
Executive Producer

Ralph Farquhar is the executive producer of Disney+'s groundbreaking and award-winning animated series "The Proud Family: Louder and Prouder." Farquhar began his career writing for Garry Marshall's classic ABC series "Happy Days," after which he went on to develop and executive produce several award-winning series of his own, including "South Central," "Moesha," "The Parkers," and "Real Husbands of Hollywood." Farquhar and his producing partner, Bruce W. Smith, under their BaR Productions banner, recently extended their overall deal with Disney, which calls for them to produce animated and live-action series and movies for Disney Kids & Family. Their first project, the stop-motion extravaganza, "A Proud Family Wizmas," will be coming to Disney+ later this year.
