Rory Millikin

Co-Host, Executive Producer

Rory Millikin is a serial entrepreneur, award-winning inventor, and creator of revolutionary food processing technologies and holds multiple patents.

Millikin is currently the co-founder and president of Trucelium, one of the world's largest functional mushroom growers (think Lion's Mane) with multiple innovative patents filed.

He recently invented and received a patent for the world's first vacuum transdermal patch. His other inventions have been used by some of the largest fast food chains (McDonald's, KFC and Burger King), one of the largest home appliance brands in history (George Foreman Cooking) and the largest commercial kitchen appliance company in the world (The Middleby Corporation).

Millikin also invented and patented the world's first extraction-free, CO2-free, chemical-free cannabis nanopowder used by national brands across the U.S. He co-founded the world's first Christian CBD company, God's Greenery, which was later acquired by a leading Canadian cannabis brand.

Millikin's inventions have been licensed and used to win some of the industry's most prestigious awards, including The KI (Kitchen Innovation) Award, Gold Medal For Innovation (Digrim), American Masters of Taste Gold Medal and Allure Best in Beauty Award.
