Ruth Shurman

Showrunner, Nutopia

As a London-based documentary filmmaker and executive producer, Shurman specializes in telling powerful human stories with ambitious editorial content. Her multiple award-winning projects include “Surgeons: At the Edge of Life and “My Dad, the Peace Deal and Me,” both for the BBC. Other ambitious unscripted shows include the Grierson Award-winning hit series “Celebrity Hunted” for C4, the innovative “The Secret History of My Family” and “Steve Jobs: Billion Dollar Hippy.” Previously as a director and series producer at the BBC for almost 20 years, Shurman created factual programming with social history, science and access-led journalism at their heart.
